

OVATION names Maiah Johnson Account Manager

Boston, MA (March 13, 2017) – OVATION, Inc., a leading provider of technology-amplified live events, has added Maiah Johnson to its account management team at their fast-growing Boston office. As the company's new Account Manager, Maiah will be responsible for managing multiple client relationships, she will work closely with customers to understand their needs and create effective solutions.

Maiah comes to OVATION from Jack Morton Worldwide's Boston headquarters. Prior, she cut her teeth in the experiential marketing work at New York City agency, MKG. She's worked with a variety of brands, including New Balance, Delta Air Lines, PUMA, L'Oreal Paris, and Google.

OVATION's Chief Client Officer, Peter Cumming, spoke highly of Maiah saying, "We are lucky to have Maiah. She has incredible experience in every aspect of the event management chain and her ability to maintain and develop client relationships will be crucial in ensuring OVATION's continued success."

When asked about her new position, Maiah said "I'm really excited to join the team here at OVATION. We're doing some incredible work, and I'm thrilled to bring my experience to the table to help elevate the agency even further."

About OVATION

OVATION creates and executes sharable experiences that exceed our clients' expectations while staying on budget. We pair a robust combination of internal services you might expect from a big box company with the boutique attention and flexibility that you require. Scalability is our specialty. Don't settle for less... expect more.

Your Events Matter, Make Them Memorable.

For more information about OVATION visit www.ovationevents.com.

Contact:

Anna Yudin, Marketing Director

OVATION, Inc.

Phone: 781-985-0029

Email: ayudin@ovationevents.com